An aerial photograph of a rural landscape. A prominent red line runs diagonally across the middle of the image, likely representing a property boundary or a road. To the left of this line is a large, open field. To the right is a more developed area with several buildings, including a large white house with a red roof, and various smaller structures. A blue circle with a red arrow points to a specific location on the right side of the red line. The background shows a dense line of trees and a body of water in the distance.

An aerial photograph of a rural landscape. A red line and a blue line are drawn across the image, likely representing a boundary or a specific area of interest. The landscape features a mix of green fields, brownish patches, and some buildings. A yellow line is also visible in the upper left corner.
